

Testimonials for Health Link

From Chelsea and Westminster NHS Trust Patients Forum in relation to Health Link's Community Connections project for the Forum 5th October 2007

"The Chelsea and Westminster NHS Trust Patient and Public Involvement Forum and the Kensington and Chelsea PCT Patient and Public Involvement Forum jointly commissioned Health Link to produce a report for us outlining the extent of local community organisations interested in health. Health Link's way of working was ideal for us. They had a thorough research methodology and professional approach but crucially managed to achieve a high quality report within the confines of the necessary budget and scale of the project, and kept in touch throughout to discuss the report's progress. The final "Community Connections" report is an extremely valuable resource, particularly because of the care taken by Health Link to ensure that the report reflected the diversity of the borough. They put particular effort into searching out a wide range of minority community groups, specific patient groups and groups representing specific age groups, many of which had not engaged with the PPIFs before."
